THE OUTLOOK

For a woman's happiness in the married state depends less, as a rule, upon the man she is married to than upon her own health. The woman who enters upon marriage, suffering from womanly weakness, is "heaping up trouble against the day of trouble."

Weak woman are made strong and sick women are made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the one reliable regulator. It dries enfeebled drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It nourishes the nerves and invigorates the entire womanly organism. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives strength to nursing mothers.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice, in paper covers, sent free on receipt of one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CABINET REMAINS

Members are Said to Have Yielded to President Roosevelt's Request.

Senate Leaders, However, Predict That Changes Will Occur--Strong Sentiment Apparent Against Disturbing Tariff Legislation.

President Roosevelt Approves Negotiations with England Relative to the Proposed Isthmian Canal.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The action of President Roosevelt in asking the members of the McKinley cabinet to remain at the head of their respective departments was generally commended by members of both branches of Congress to-day. A large number of Senators and Representatives were at the capital to-day, and the action of the President since taking the oath of office and the policy which his party will pursue at the next session of Congress were discussed. No undue haste has characterized this discussion. It was realized by all members of Congress that with the death of the head of the nation a crisis had come, and it was one that must be met intelligently, and the problems presented must be solved only after much deliberation. Scores of members of both Senate and House gathered during the morning and early in the afternoon prior to the departure of the congressional trains for Canton and discussed the changes which would probably follow the succession of Roosevelt.

It was stated on excellent authority to-day, however, that all members of the cabinet have accepted the resignation tendered by President Roosevelt yesterday. The manner in which the President made the tender rendered it impossible for the members of the cabinet to take any other course, as they are already in the positions and can not decline, but must resign their places if they desire to leave the cabinet. In spite of this, it can not be denied that prominent members, particularly members of the Senate, believe that the present cabinet will not remain except temporarily. This belief was based on a number of facts which are familiar to most men in public life in Washington.

It is realized that Secretary Hay has had during the past year domestic trials which would turn the heart and ambition of many men from their usual pursuits. His own health has not been as good as could be desired. It is believed that had President McKinley lived difficulty would have been experienced in keeping the Secretary of State in the cabinet. The one reason for his remaining, as given by his friends, has been his desire to bring the Chinese matter to a successful issue and to bring about a satisfactory diplomatic situation as relates to the Isthmian canal project and the conventions which it will involve. Negotiations with South and Central American countries interested in the Isthmian canal concessions have been brought to a satisfactory stage so far as urged. A new convention with England has been practically framed.

It was suggested by a member of the foreign relations committee of the Senate to-day that perhaps Secretary Hay might wish to remain in the cabinet until he had presented the new treaty to the Senate and favorable action upon it had been secured, but there was much doubt expressed as to his remaining longer.

With Secretary Long domestic reasons are urged as accounting for a desire for his retirement. His health, like that of the Secretary of State has not yet been good. While not admitted generally their reason to believe that past relations between Mr. Roosevelt and the Secretary will prompt him to seek retirement from the cabinet within a year.

In the case of Secretary Gage it is difficult to gauge from the expressions of members of Congress and others here, the exact feeling toward him. It can not be doubted that there has been much urging of his retention from New York, Philadelphia and other financial centers. If President Roosevelt is amenable to influence at all, it is not doubted that it will first be exerted upon him in relation to the management of the treasury and the personnel of the officers in charge.

Members generally believe that the other members of the cabinet not specifically referred to wish to retain their places and will do so unless displaced by some unforeseen development or political demands which have not as yet been made.

Another feature of the relations of the new President with last administration became known to-day, to the effect that Mr. Roosevelt has been fully advised and has approved of the negotiations in progress relative to the proposed Isthmian canal treaty with England.

Senators discussed gravely the renewal talk of reciprocity as did prominent members of the House. Some of the House. Some of the most prominent members of the upper House of Congress do not hesitate to say that their will be no reciprocity legislation at the next session, and prominent members of the House urge that there will be no tariff legislation. Members of both branches of Congress take an attitude of opposition because of their claim that an attempt of the kind would involve an entire revision of the tariff. It was urged to-day by two of the most prominent members of the Senate that no changes will be attempted, because of the interdependent nature of the tariff schedules. Once disturbed there will be a demand for an entire readjustment. Only the members who have passed through the months of hard labor and preparation can realize the colossal task of tariff revision and its attendant disturbance of business conditions. It is this that will make members of Congress hesitate in a moment toward the tariff revision. It is this feeling that has created opposition to the Babcock bill. That bill proposed to charge principally the steel schedule, but it is quickly demonstrated that like a house of cards a single and slight disturbance affects the whole.

FORMING A NEW PARTY.

Allied Delegates Hold Convention at Kansas City.

Platform With 9 Planks Drafted and Approved.

Lease for Hall Expired and the Convention Adjourned.

A Dispatch to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat from Kansas City, Mo., on September 17, says: Slight progress was made to-day in the movement to organize a third party here. Probably two hundred delegates representing the Bryan Democrats, the Single Taxers, Liberal Socialists, Fusion Populists, Middle-of-the-road Populists and the Public Ownership party in attendance. The delegates were asked to sign this statement:

"Delegates' Credentials, Kansas City National Convention, to form and name a new National Political Party: I, the undersigned, desire to be a delegate in this convention, and hereby in favor of forming and naming a new national party at this convention on the lines of the allied third party, as stated in the call. I am in favor of public ownership of all public utilities, direct legislation, the creation of a cabinet office as department of labor and equitable arbitration laws, the election of United States Senators by the people, government coinage, issue and control of the money of the country, postal savings banks, tax equalization so that wealth shall have its just share of the burdens of government. And oppose the combinations of capital used in restraint of trade and government by injunction."

The convention was to have been called to order at 10 o'clock, but was postponed until a committee made up of fourteen Populists and fourteen members distributed equally among the other "isms" represented could agree on a platform. The committee was in session until 5 o'clock when it gave out the following platform:

1. We demand the initiative and referendum and the imperative mandate.
2. We favor the public ownership of all public utilities, as the people from time to time elect.
3. The land, including all natural resources, the heritages of the people, should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership should be prohibited. All lands now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs or held by aliens should be reclaimed and held for actual settlers only.
4. We favor scientific money, based upon the entire wealth of the nation, and not redeemable in any specific commodity, but to be legal tender for all debts, private or public, to be issued by the government only, without the intervention of banks, in sufficient quantity to meet the requirements of commerce.
5. We believe in just and natural taxation.
6. We demand the election of the President, Vice President, Federal Judges and Senators by the people.

7. We favor the creation of a cabinet office of the department of labor and equitable arbitration.

8. We favor the adoption of such constitutional amendments as may be necessary to make the above laws. After the agreement on platform was reached, it was proposed to call the convention to order, when the discovery was made that the hall had been rented for the night, and it was too late to secure another. The convention was called to order the next morning and an effort was made to complete the task before an adjournment for the day.

A HAVEMEYER WOOL PLAN

An Inconsistent Demand for Free Wool Exposed.

Some of the woolen manufacturers of New England are reported to be undergoing a change of heart, and to have an acute attack of Havemeyerism. They want cheap wool, therefore they advocate the abolition of the Tariff on wool, so that they can buy foreign wool laid down in Boston at ten cents a pound. But these manufacturers want to catch 'em coming and going. With free wool, and therefore cheap wool, they want Protection on manufacturers of wool, so that they may have the double benefit.

The manufacturers put up the plea, which they knew to be false, that "the wool grower would probably thrive as well under free wool as he does now." In support of this absurd proposition they urge that the present policy has so restricted the market that the wool growing industry does not prosper. Why not apply the same argument to the manufacturers of wool?

The Pioneer Press, which has never been orthodox on the policy of Protection, asserts that the duty on wool has not promoted the development of the wool industry, and in support of this gives some figures. Montana is at the head of the wool producing States, and it will be useless to attempt to make such fallacies go in this State. The wool and sheep industry languished under the Wilson-Gorman Free-Trade law, and in 1896 many sheep owners were so fearful of the success of the Democratic ticket that they did not think it worth while to breed their sheep until it was decided that McKinley and a Republican majority in Congress had been elected which would make probable a duty on wool and the repeal of the Wilson law. Since that time the flocks of the West have increased in numbers by hundreds of thousands and in value by millions of dollars, and the wool growers of the country are once more prosperous, thanks to the Protective Tariff.

If the manufacturers were consistent and demanded that with the taking off of the Tariff duty on wool the Protective duties that have shut out the English and German fabrics and given our home markets to American manufacturers should also be abolished, they would at least be consistent and receive a hearing. As it is they are going on the Havemeyer plan, wanting Free-Trade for their raw material for manufacture and Protection for the same article when manufactured.—Helena (Mont.) Record.

An Appeal to the 'Tater.

Why do you climb so high,

Potato?

Why scorn our deep and hungry sigh,

Potato?

We've loved you long, we love you still;

We always have, we always will—

Our thoughts and other sports you fill

Potato.

We used to peel your jacket off,

Potato;

No more that garment will you doff,

We take you in with peel and all,

And nose and eyes, both great and small;

No morsel do we dare let fall,

Potato.

Then must we buy you by the quart,

Potato?

O, prove yourself of the mellow sort,

Potato.

Give ear to our despairing cry,

Admit you've got your peach too high

Our longing midst, O, satisfy,

The Salvation Army started its penny ice wagons for the benefit of the poor in Kansas City on the first day of July an example worthy of emulation by the richer religious denominations of the land. This is, after all, the essence of true Christianity. One block of ice given to miserable ones, unable to flee from the scorching heat out of a great city is worth a car load of tracts and a world of convenient doctrines preached from pulpit pulpits.

A Certificate.

This will certify that D. J. Wilcox, Road and Bridge Commissioner for the two Rockport voting precincts did advertise to let, to contract, on the 27th day of May 1901, at 9 o'clock a. m., to make a fill in slough on the Rockport and Ceraivo road, and as some unscrupulous fiend, who, devoid of honor, has circulated a rumor to the hurt of said D. J. Wilcox, he being a candidate for Magistrate in the Seventh Magisterial district, that the said D. J. Wilcox did advertise said letting to be at two o'clock p. m., and that he, (Wilcox), did take three or four of his Republican friends to where the letting was to be at 9 o'clock, without the knowledge of any of the Democrats and did let the Republican friends have said contract.

Now we the undersigned citizens of Rockport, Ohio county, Ky., (Democrats) do State that said advertisement did say, that said contract would be let at 9 o'clock a. m., and we further state that said contract was let about that hour (9 a. m.) and that we all, Republicans and Democrats, participated in bidding on contract without discrimination.

I have done my best to understand my duty in State affairs. I can't endorse Mr. Taylor's course and to vote for Yerkes would be to indorse all the lawlessness of last winter.—J. P. MILLER.

THAT "TWO WEEK'S PAY BILL."

Next to farming, coal mining is the greatest industry in the county. More men are engaged in this work than all the other business professions in the county. The miner is a citizen of the county, subject to and amenable to the laws of the county. He is taxed to help pay the expenses of carrying on the county and State governments and is, therefore, entitled to protection under the law. The miners of this county are, as a rule, good and substantial citizens, they live on the products from the farm, their interest is in common with the farmer, and the more money the miner makes the more he spends, therefore, what benefits the miner benefits the farmer.

Seven years ago the miners of this county could scarcely get a "red" for their labors. They were paid in old copper money that was worthless save in the company's store, where they worked, from this style of money they were promoted to another system of finance, made of card board, which was worthless anywhere save in the store of the company for whom they worked. But these hardy sons of toil were faithful to their trust and labored from day to day, from week to week, from month to month for this "card board" money, of the corporation. These magnanimous souls, for none but a magnanimous spirit would work for such money, grew tired of this sort of finance, and you don't blame them do you, Mr. Farmer? They strove hard and long to devise some means of relief. Finally they concluded on a solution to the problem and proceeded to demonstrate, by appealing to the Legislature of Kentucky for relief. They petitioned the Legislature in '94 to pass and enact into law a bill that would force their employers to pay them semi-monthly in legal and lawful money of the country.

Mr. T. J. Smith, the present Democratic candidate for County Clerk, was then a member of the Legislature. When this bill was submitted, Mr. Smith opposed it, voted against it and used his influence against it and it was defeated. Thus saying to the miners of this county, "Card board money" is good enough for you, but if you buy a house and lot and want me to record your deed, you will have to pay me for it. Well, Mr. Smith, we will pay you with the same money we get for our labor. No, sir, you will have to pay me in legal tender, says Mr. Smith. Ah, dear friend and fellow toiler, do you see how infamous is your treatment at the hands of such a money shark? Heed then the advice of a true friend and servant and do not allow this serpent to beguile and kiss you, do not allow him to deceive you by this scularity process of the unfaithful.

It has been made known to us by the records that Mr. Smith is your physical, social and financial enemy. If his little speech be true, if he offered an amendment favorable to you and all other miners in the State, will he please publish it? The Republican will take pleasure in publishing it free and sending a marked copy to each and every miner in the county, and make due apologies for what we may have said, with reference to his conduct toward the laboring men of this county. Ah, laboring men, follow the advice here given and watch these columns for that "SUBSTITUTE."

A TROUBLED COLONY.

A good Democrat's attention was called, recently, to an assembly of the inhabitants of the barnyard. A tremendous cry went up from the congregated multitude and some distress was written upon every face. The pig was crying at the top of his voice; the billy goat, though mute, showed signs of inexpressible grief; the gobler's ceaseless gobbling was transformed to a doleful put, put, the goose cackled not, the gander was silent and the guinea ceased his chattering, while the "pullets" and the "trys" and the mother hen were speechless and awe-stricken. Realizing that something terrible had transpired among the colony of fowls and their associates, our good Democratic friend rushed into the midst of the scene, shouting: "What's the matter, here?" And he immediately saw his proud and oldest cock down on his knees in sore affliction, presented himself in the manner following:

When asked the trouble, the old cock replied: "I am trying to digest the Republican challenge, and find that there are not enough rocks in my craw to meet the demand, I am, therefore, sick at heart and otherwise." The sick always elicits our sympathy and the intense nausea of this troubled soul appeals to our profoundest sympathy, but the venerable old hero has called the wrong physicians to treat his case. Dr. Ringo says: "It is their opinion that the voters of this county are fully advised touching the issues in this county campaign," while Dr. Matthews adds to Dr. Ringo's diagnosis: "And a joint debate would only result in bitterness and strife."

A sorry plight, indeed. In all probability Dr. Ringo might instruct the voters along military lines, while Dr. Matthews could instruct on the assassination theory. The very idea! Democratic children, do you mean to say, if your Republican friends were to charge you with political grand larceny, with overthrowing the ballot box, with stealing office, with Legislative records, political eclipses and misrepresentation of the county's indebtedness that you would arouse bitterness of feeling and breed strife? Gentlemen, is it possible that you can't face the people with your records without war and carnage? Will the voters of this county elevate such a cowardly clan of men to the offices they seek? God forbid.

JUDGE MILLER boasts long and loud about his wonderful administration, his lieutenants and cubs, and those Democrats who admire him for his having voted for Asbury, boisterously croak that he has made the best Judge the county ever had. Mr. Rogers said to Judge Miller: "Judge, you have not done the half what you claim to have done for this county; that 'over' on your card is not only misleading but it is absolutely false. I challenge you, sir, to face the people and me and defend your official record, your marvelous administration, your political career, your indictment of those who voted for Mr. Yerkes for Governor." "Mr. Rogers," saith the Judge, "the people are advised touching the issues involved in this campaign. I can't meet you." Honest, unbiased, right-thinking men, if Judge Miller's record is what he says it is, could he defend it against all comers? Why should he refuse to meet his opponent?

We have waited two long weeks for apology from the County Judge for the false statement of the county's indebtedness, which he published and circulated over the county as a "vote-catcher," and thus far he has declined to talk. Had he exercised this sort of judgment in the first place, no explaining would be necessary, but he is very much like the parrot that was always talking. Thinking men, we call your attention to the misrepresentation of the county's business, and the manner of the Judge's conduct in the matter. In summing up the indebtedness of the county, why should Judge Miller say that there were $2,000 in the sinking fund when there were $21,223 of being a cent in the sinking fund; further, why did the Judge not report his $1,550 treble and why did he say the indebtedness was $35,000, when the actual record showed only $25,000? Tax payers, these are things for you to consider.

Last week we made mention of the fact that Superintendent of the almshouse, Mr. J. T. Wallace, could have his claim cashed at the bank and Judge Miller would order the court to pay the discount. In doing this, we referred to the commissioners, which was a mistake, it should have been the Superintendent. Nevertheless we take note that no denial has been enjoined. Last year Mr. Wallace presented his claim at the Ohio County Bank for collection. Capt. Cox cashed it and presented a bill of $13.35 to the Court which Judge Miller ordered paid. Now, if Mr. Wallace is entitled to his money and the county pay the discount, why is not every other person holding a claim entitled to the same courtesy at the hands of the man now asking to be re-elected to the office of County Judge? Judge Miller, please explain.

The voters of Ohio county should remember the campaign of last fall; they should remember that assassination was made the issue from a Democratic standpoint and that, try as hard as they might, they could not be forced to any other question. They should remember that Mr. Ben D. Ringo, the present chairman and director general of the Democratic party in Ohio county, went about over the county with a pocket full of cartridges, which he flourished and exhibited, as the weapons of the "Civil Liberty Band;" that in debate at Horse Branch with Judge Wells, of Leitchfield, that this political wind-bag, flourished frantically, a lot of cartridges, charging that these things were civil liberty's main stay.

Mr. BUTLER, the Democratic nominee for Sheriff, tells his friends that he was more than anxious to meet the Republicans on the stump, in fact he insisted as did most of his colleagues, but Judge Miller and Mr. Smith said: "Gentlemen, it won't do." Judge, why won't it do? Were you afraid to meet the young man who opposes you on the stump? Mr. Smith, why won't it do? Were you afraid to meet your manly, brave and drier opponent on the stump? Answering, these gentlemen acknowledge that they, each, have records that cannot be defeated. They are ashamed to go before the public and be "gouged" from day to day. All those sneaking, cowardly demagogues, sayeth the people, to home with your families.

So far as it is possible to judge, from outward appearances, and all are prone to judge from appearances more or less, the Hartford Herald is dead. Interment will take place when the sanitary laws are enforced. It calls no man an assassin any longer; it defends not the contest; it is not permitted to speak on the subject of politics; it makes no effort to defend its right honorable Judge's false report of the county's financial standing. If this don't constitute death politically speaking, what "do" it spell?

If it were right that assassination should be the issue last fall, why not have it again? Is it possible that Democrats make issues good for one year only? Who would have dreamed five years ago that the Democratic party would, in 1900, make their fight on assassination? Were it righteous to inflame the passions and poison the mind with assassination last year, it ought to be sacrilegious to leave it out now. Would some good Democratic brother care to explain?

DISINTERESTMENT has already set up among the Democratic candidates. Some want to debate, while others say "it won't do," and it is an open secret that it is a case of "every fellow for himself and the devil for all." Mr. Smith banks heavily on his ability to "trade off." Mr. Miller to deceive, to play Republican, Populist and Democrat; Mr. Wade on his former business career; Cox on his good looks, and Butler on his money. It's a mess of "hodge podge."

Mr. Cox says the reason he is making the race, is that he wants to show his pluck. Well, Meta, it does take considerable pluck to face what you are, but there is nothing in it to you after all. The people of Ohio county do not want a man to represent them who would act in unison with the infamous proceedings of the contest, were it his to do. Cox, go home to your mama.

JUDGE MILLER'S "over" on his card says the county had $2,000 in the sinking fund at the close of business for last year. Sheriff's Settlement, Book 2, page 146 says that after the sinking fund and county's treasury had been exhausted of all the county's finances, that the county still owed the Sheriff $231.23. Judge, does your card lie, or is it the record?

Last fall while assassination was the issue for Democrats, the present head of that organization, went to Daviess county and told the people that it was a hard matter to find Republicans in Ohio county that would swear the truth on the witness stand. This and Jake Rowe's "brains" are characteristic of the men. They are irresponsible "wind-jammers."

TOM SMITH'S "damned good lickens" ain't worth a cuss. But then he can't afford to spread his "damned good lickens" all over the county, hence he has decided to stay the "one" promised us. It's a very sensible thing to do, but things ought not be promised that way.

THE Republican candidates are having unusually large crowds to attend their speakings and they are making most vigorous and aggressive campaign on the stump, while their cowardly Democratic opponents sneak around under the cover of night.

POOR old "A. G. Benton" raises his voice this week to protest against turning out the old and tried Judge, for a "young and vicious colt." Now "A. G.," this colt has asked the old jack to meet him in the field to correct the jack's errors. Why don't you trot him out?

In front of Slaty Creek Church, at Prentiss, is a 25-foot bridge so badly wrecked that public travel can only be possible by crossing the creek as nature made it. This is some of our present economic administration. There are many other similar examples.

JUDGE, old boy, come now, be good, if you'll just go out to one Republican speaking and see how little there is left of you, when Rogers is through with you, you'll just be surprised, you would go home and resign immediately. Try it once.

MR. SMITH tells the miners he offered a substitute to the "Two Week's Pay Bill," as a "vote-catcher," but he takes especial pains not to show the "substitute." Laboring man, watch this "trickster."

WE take note that the changeable head of the Democratic ticket can't find time to straighten his financial statement. Well, these political times are awfully busy, aren't they, Judge?

JO A. PARKER takes up his brother, Judge Miller, and gives him a severe talking in his paper, The Home Tribune. Read it in another column—it is rich, rare and racy.

THE "over" on the Judge's card is only a vote-catcher. Judge, if you want to tote fair with your countrymen, why don't you come out and defend that falsehood?

The military commander of the Democratic party has lost his bag of cartridges, if some good friend will present him a new case, we may yet have a joint debate.

MR. COX said he would make it hot for Mr. Bennett on the stump. We heard Mr. Bennett speak Monday night and we didn't see nothing of the heated Cox.

MR. SMITH, what did you do with that civil liberty picture the Judge's son shook in the anti-statesman's face, Ollie James last fall? Can't we have it?

BILLY, old boy, you ought to go out and hear Mr. Heavin just one time. If he don't make it awfully hot for you there ain't no hereafter.

"THAT," it all over now!

Stoned to Death.

Shelbyville, Ky., Sept. 23.—Will Hart, the son of John Hart, of Lebanon, O., was killed in this city last night by Jimbo Fields and Clarence Ginnell, colored boys, nineteen and fifteen years old, respectively. Hart was a journeyman printer, employed temporarily on the Shelby Sentinel. He came to this city from Winchester in July. He had been drinking heavily for two or three days. Last night he wandered into a tough negro settlement. His confessed murderers claim that he was trying to force his way into the house of Fields's mother when they stoned him to death. His skull was crushed and he was dying when found near a house by Anna Fields, mother of Jimbo Fields.

COUGHS KILL

We know of nothing better than coughing to tear the lining of your throat and lungs. It is better than wet feet to cause bronchitis and pneumonia. Only keep it up and you will succeed in reducing your weight, losing your appetite, bringing on a slow fever, and making everything exactly right for the germs of consumption.

Better kill your cough before it kills you.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

kills coughs of every kind. A 25 cent bottle is just right for an ordinary cough; for the harder coughs of bronchitis you will need a 50 cent bottle; and for the coughs of consumption the one dollar size is most economical.

"My cough reduced me to a mere skeleton. I tried many remedies, but they all failed. After using the Cherry Pectoral I immediately began to improve, and three bottles restored me to health. I believe I owe my life to it."

Warns Populists to Wash Their Hands of Such a Traitor

—A Stinging Rebuke.

ITS FACTS NOT FICTION.

Our friend Judge J. P. Miller of Ohio county, once a good Populist and always a worthy man, is the Democratic nominee for County Judge of Ohio county. He began his downward career by accepting a fusion nomination, and gracefully evolved from a fusion Populist into a full-grown Democrat of the "Upper case" persuasion.

While this process of evolution was going on he protested to all that he was as good a Populist as the best; but now that it is necessary to have a Democratic pedigree, which, unfortunately, Brother Miller has, he seems that he claims differently—in fact claims that he received the full endorsement of the spirit when Bryan was nominated in 1896.

Some kind friend has sent us two circulars from Ohio county which do not read well for Brother Miller. One is a card issued March 1, 1901, which Brother Miller explains his position, and in bold, black type he says:

"Since the adoption of the Chicago platform by the Democratic national convention in 1896, and the reaffirmation of this platform by the Democratic party in Kentucky, I have been and am now a Democrat." Further along he says:

"I expect to be nominated as a Democrat, and shall ask the nomination as a Democrat."

There is no doubt as to Brother Miller's meaning. He is no longer a Populist. He has washed his hands of his old associates and gone to the camp of the enemy.

In the same mail we received another circular. This was a certified copy of a letter to T. F. Crowder, a good Populist, dated July 19, 1900 in which he writes Mr. Crowder:

"I am still a Populist," and "I am for everything the Populists have advocated. I don't propose to take one backward step for any nomination or office." And still further on he repeats, with emphasis, "I am a Populist."

From these two circulars it seems that Brother Miller has been trying to "tote water on both shoulders." This is a very hard hat to successfully accomplish, and Brother Miller will find this to be a fact.

While we regret exceedingly to lose Brother Miller from the ranks of the party, as we look upon him as a nice gentleman, still we must define to stop the Populist procession to wait for him to return. The Populist party must discipline its wayward members as other parties do, or fall apart of its own weakness. Populists who may feel friendly to Brother Miller must remember that he is no longer of our household, has publicly repudiated us, and thus very ungratefully returned a cold potato for favors he has received. The Populists of Ohio county, who number many loyal and true hearted men, should refuse to be delivered by and breaches to the organized Democracy just to help Judge Miller get re-elected. In short, the Populists of Ohio county should hold a convention and nominate a full ticket, and give that ticket support and make no exception in the case of any man who has deserted. At this time when Populists everywhere have given up any hope of the Democratic party accomplishing anything, when it appears as a foregone conclusion that the conservative element is again in the saddle; when it is impossible for the Bryanites to carry any state convention except Colorado and Nebraska, it is very poor judgment to sit down in sackcloth and ashes because one man has gone wrong and cry out that the world is lost and hope is dead. Let the old guard form a few its lines and go into battle in Ohio county, regardless of whom it injures and caring nothing as to what straggler falls by the wayside. There is but one sentiment now which should animate the heart of the true reformer. "Forward." That is the command. Our faces are to the rising sun, and if any wishes to turn back to Sodom and Gomorrah, that is his privilege, but the grand army of Populism will not halt, will not retrace its steps. "Forward, March!" —Home Tribune.

When the Hair Falls Out

swollen glands, aching muscles and bones, the disease is making rapid headway, and far worse symptoms will follow unless the blood is promptly and effectually cleansed of this violent destructive poison.

S. S. S. is the only safe and infallible cure for this disease, the only antidote for this specific poison. It cures the worst cases thoroughly and permanently.

My Condition Could Have Been No Worse.

In the fall of 1897 I contracted Blood Poison. I tried three doctors, but their treatment did me no good. I was getting worse all the time; my hair came out, ulcers appeared in my throat and mouth, my body was almost covered with copper colored spots and offensive sores. I suffered severely from rheumatic pains in my shoulders and arms. My condition could have been no worse; only those afflicted as I was can understand my sufferings. I had about lost all hope of ever being well again when I decided to try S. S. S. I must confess I had little faith to try it, but I tried it. From that time on the improvement was rapid. S. S. S. effected a change in my condition completely. Under its control, the sores and ulcers completely disappeared, and I was soon free from all signs of the disease. I have been strong and healthy ever since.

The Economy Dry Goods Store.

I take this means of announcing to the public that I have decided to name my store (R. T. Collins' old stand) the ECONOMY DRY GOODS STORE. I think this fits the case and expresses the full meaning of my business. I intend to make it a matter of ECONOMY with everybody to trade with me. I expect to buy goods with the idea of ECONOMY in mind and sell them at such close profits as to make every purchase a stroke of ECONOMY with the customer. In fact, ECONOMY will be the pass-word here all over the store. You will find that to really practice ECONOMY in buying Dry Goods, it will be decidedly to your advantage to trade with me. In this connection I wish to say that my

New Fall and Winter Stock is Now on Hand.

It comprises the very latest in all the novelties in the Dry Goods and Notion line, and the cost mark is "ECONOMY." Dress Goods in all the popular shades and qualities, with trimming and every accessory. Ladies' and Gents' Furnishings of every description and of the most modern and serviceable designs. In fact, everything that comes in the line of Dry Goods and under the head of ECONOMY. In regard to Millinery, I wish to say that I think I will be able to out-do all former efforts in this line, and you will find that the price is a synonym of ECONOMY. All I ask is a trial to convince you that

The Economy Dry Goods Store

Is the place to trade. Give us a call and let me help you save money on your Fall and Winter purchases. Yours for Economy,

The Ohio County Fair Co. deserves to be congratulated on selecting the Render Cornet Band to make music for the Fair. The Render Band is easily the leading band in this section of the State. The public will be delighted with their music. Gentlemen of the band, we congratulate you.

The Republican candidates are meeting with the heartiest welcome ever extended a corps of candidates. Large crowds greet them at every appointment and their speeches and "sizing" up of the cowardly Democratic nominees are enthusiastically received. It is the duty of every citizen to know the condition of the county's business. Farmers have not the time to come to the county's seat of business and investigate the records hence, they should meet at these speaking and be informed from copies of the record as to the condition of affairs. The false and misrepresented statements of the county's business are being exposed and the people should take advantage of the opportunity thus afforded.

I WON'T TELL.

FOUND GUILTY

Trial Lasted Eight Hours and Twenty-six Minutes, Continuing for Two Days

The Prisoner Remained Absolutely Silent All During the Day and Seemed Unaffected.

Buffalo, N. Y. Sept. 24.—Leon F. Czolgosz, alias Fred Nieman, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in Part III of the supreme court, in having, on the 6th day of September, shot President William McKinley, the wounds inflicted afterward resulting in the death of the President.

The wheels of justice moved swiftly. The trial of the assassin consumed eight hours and 26 minutes, and covered a period of only two days. Practically all of this time was occupied by the prosecution in presenting a case so clear, so conclusive that even had the prisoner entered the plea of insanity, it is doubtful if the jury would have returned a verdict different from the one rendered to-day.

The announcement made this afternoon by the attorneys for Czolgosz that the eminent alienist summoned by the Erie county bar association and by the district attorney to examine Czolgosz and to determine his exact mental condition had declared him to be perfectly sane, destroyed the only stage of a defense that Judge Lewis and Titus could have put together.

Before adjournment Justice White announced that he would pronounce sentence upon the defendant on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The prisoner was taken at once through the tunnel, under Delaware avenue, back to the jail. To all appearances he was in no way affected by the result of the trial.

The crowd gathered at the city hall to-day was the largest which has been seen since his arraignment. People lined up on both sides of the big road on the second floor, where court convenes, and fringed the stairs leading from the floor above. There was no demonstration except that of curiosity. A large number of women witnessed to-day's proceedings.

HORSE BRANCH, KY.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—I would have written this to the Herald, but knowing how it was disgusted with politics I would not disturb it in its rest. I have been a voter for twenty years, but who is it that can stick to it this year? You can talk about top line or Republican rule, but if this two-man rule in this county can be beat, why, I will stick to them, but no, you can not beat J. P. Miller or T. J. Smith. Why, the very idea of those bosses controlling the rest of the ticket, also the county committee. I believe in majority rule, but these two men will rule this county's. Don't say: I will not support such a ticket, as well as others, no conscientious Democrat can vote for it. Why will they not face the voters of this county in joint debate? Is it because of their records, or course it is. Let them come out among us and defend the cause of Democracy. There is a principle there for them to defend, that is what they were nominated for. The voters are asking you to come to their rescue and not let their cause trail in the dust. We give you one more warning, if you are to be worthy of our support. Do not be afraid to defend our cause in joint debate.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, This day being the day which the late and beloved President, Wm. McKinley, is taken to his final resting place and

Whereas, Theo. Roosevelt, President of the United States, hath proclaimed this day a day of prayer and mourning.

Therefore, We, the people of Horse Branch and community, in memorial service assembled desiring to express our abiding faith in God, our love, faith and esteem for our lamented ruler and our most high appreciation of his great works and his pure, noble and exalted christian life beg leave to submit the following:

1. We look upon the life and works of our great Chief as a divine gift to the American people, a wise dispensation of Providence. His life from the cradle to the grave has been such as God would have it, a life of love, care and devotion to the great country that honored him, a life consecrated and devoted to the christian faith.

2. We look upon the death of President Wm. McKinley as a calamity indeed, and condemn the assassin who stole away his precious life as a villain of the blackest type, an enemy to government, an enemy to God and man.

3. We indulge the hope that the next Congress will pass such stringent laws that organized anarchy can not exist in this land of freedom, that the enemies of free government can not find refuge in America.

4. In the death of our late President America sustains the loss of the greatest man of the age, the most profound statesman of his time, a wise, generous, consecrated ruler whose life was devoted to the betterment of mankind. In his death mankind loses a friend.

5. In this hour of deepest grief and sorrow we extend our tenderest sympathy to Mrs. McKinley and pray Him in whose presence her beloved husband now is, to comfort, protect, guide and save.

6. While we are bowed down in profound sorrow over the death of our lamented President, yet we express our deepest confidence in our new Chief Magistrate, Theo. Roosevelt, believing him capable in every sense to carry out the principles which have guided our nation through the greatest and most prosperous period in its history and carried the blessings of civilization to the islands of the sea.

7. That a copy of these resolutions be published in the county papers.

An Ancient Foe

To health and happiness is Scrofula—as ugly as ever since time immemorial.

It causes blemishes in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

"A bunch appeared on the left side of my neck. It caused great pain, was lanced, and became a running sore. I went into a general decline. I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had taken six bottles my neck was healed, and I have never had any trouble of the kind since."

CHAINED FOR TEN YEARS

There is nothing like Asthma. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. Dr. Morris Wechsler, Rabbi of the Cong. B'nai Israel, New York, Jan. 3, 1901.

Gentlemen: Your Asthma is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma.

After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthma is caused by opium, morphine, chloroform or ether. Very truly yours,
 REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER.

Avon Springs, N. Y., Feb. 4, 1901.

Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthma, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 13th street, New York, I at once obtained a bottle of Asthma. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma had disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can confidently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.

Yours respectfully,
 O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

Dr. Taft Bros. Medicine Co.
 Feb. 5, 1901.

Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your Asthma, and for six years was unable to work. I am now in the best of health and am doing business every day. This testimony you can make use of as you see fit. Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Hallway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

How to Deal with Trust

Proposed Imposition of Discriminating Duties Against Their Products.

The New York Evening Post is a free trade paper and on occasion has not hesitated to recommend the abrogation of the Protective Tariff as a proper method of dealing with trusts. It is evidently revising its views on the subject, for a few days since it suggested that the right way to overcome the trust evil is to act on the proposition made by M. des Tournelles, who urged that a special countervailing duty should be resorted to by France against the products of American trusts. It called attention to the fact that Mr. Schwab, the President of the United States Steel Corporation, had admitted that it was true that American steel was sold at lower rates for export than for the home market, and it assumed that a foreign country would be justified in discriminating against the products of the trust thus forced upon them to the detriment of their own workers.

Of course it would be proper for France and other European nations to resort to such a method, it would be equally so for us. We know that the Post was not looking at the matter from this standpoint. The Post never does look at anything from an American point of view, but it is nevertheless true that the United States has suffered more from the dumping process in the past, if the Protective Tariff were removed, than any other nation. Our experience dates back to 1815 when, at the instance of Lord Brougham, the British manufacturers unloaded their surplus goods on us for the avowed purpose of discouraging manufacturing in this country, and the experiment successfully tried at that early date was repeated whenever the United States committed the indiscretion of making their ports a free dumping ground for foreign manufactured goods.

It is idle to assume that it would be impossible to victimize us in the same fashion in the future if we resorted to free trade. The Post knows, or ought to know, that the United Kingdom is now suffering severely from the effects of America and Germany dumping, and that excellent critics of the situation have asserted that there is no way of avoiding the evil while the country adheres to free trade. Under the circumstances it would be superlatively foolish for us to open the doors to the islands of foreign trusts in order to punish the domestic offender. If foreigners feel that they are injured by a sort of trade which it would be absurd to call competitive, let them do as we have done and shut out the invading products. We shall have no occasion to regret such action, for it would probably result in compelling the trusts to deal with their domestic patrons on a fairer basis in order to promote consumption. The Post says: "This is, perhaps, a hopeful way of arranging the terms of international trade, but it is the only way we can think of as at all feasible for warding off the American peril." Of course, the Post is only overreacting about the peril in which the foreign manufacturer and his workmen are placed by being obliged to compete with improperly cheapened products,

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidneys.

Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is overworked in purifying the impure, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Write for it. It is free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

He Owes His Life to the Forethought of a Companion.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. I. Stump, of Normantown, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

"Something New Under The Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure Catarrh by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the diseased parts. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and speciality of the treatment of Catarrh, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures Catarrh by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the affected parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "Snuffles" the Guaranteed Catarrh Cure, and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

"Snuffles" is the only perfect Cure ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve Hay Fever or Cold in the Head.

Catarrh when neglected often leads to Consumption—"Snuffles" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure Catarrh in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "Snuffles" the "Guaranteed Catarrh Cure."
